

COMMUNITY ZOOMS FROM ROYAL COLLECTION TRUST

Our programme of Zoom talks for people who cannot easily visit the Official Residences of The Queen continues in 2022, every Wednesday afternoon from 2pm. Join us to hear about the different works in the Royal Collection and the history of the Monarchy. Talks are free and informal, and you can participate camera on or off, however you prefer.

Wednesday 9 February – Hans Holbein & Sir Thomas More: artist and lawyer

Join Royal Collection curator Kate Heard, to take an in-depth look at one of Hans Holbein's remarkable drawing of Sir Thomas More and gain an insight in to how the two great Tudor men interacted.

Wednesday 16 February – Royal Artists

Queen Victoria was a prolific artist, and over 4000 of her works are still in the Collection. Find out about some of these pieces and some of the other talented royal artists.

Wednesday 2 March – Tapestry tales from the Palace of Holyroodhouse

The Palace of Holyroodhouse has one of the greatest collections of seventeenth-century tapestry in the world. Join Fiona Johnston in this session to explore some of these tapestries together and to hear the interesting stories they tell.

Wednesday 9 March – The Grand Service: Silver-gilt in the Royal Collection

Royal Collection Curator Kathryn Jones will talk about the unique collection of eclectic silver-gilt pieces brought together by George IV, as the Grand Service.

Wednesday 16 March – Royal Childhood

Anna Reynolds, Deputy Surveyor of The Queen's Paintings, explore themes of royal childhood in some of the finest pictures in the Collection.

Wednesday 23 March – the Royal Photographic Collection

Photographs form a key part of the Collection as a whole and document royalty, celebrities and statesmen; architectural, topographical and landscape works from around the world, exterior and interior studies of royal residences and modern-day events.

Wednesday 30 March – the Civil War at Windsor

Find out how Windsor Castle fared during the Civil War in the 17th century.
