Eileen Pallen and Sally McGregor resigned as Trustees in 2025.

The constitution of Centrepieces requires that one third of Trustees (or the nearest number below one third) must retire at each Annual General Meeting, although they may then stand for re-election. Trustees resign in order of the date of their appointment. Mike Ellsmore and Georgina Lonergan are resigning this year but not standing for re-election. Rashikkha Ra Iyer is the next Trustee who must also resign, and she is standing again.

All the remaining Trustees are willing to stand for re-election. No new nominations have been received.
